The family of success -Strong Together

Dear Shareholders! Ladies and Gentlemen!

The outstanding results on our domestic markets are proof of the immense trust Vienna Insurance Group's customers place in our products and services.
Thus, the premium volume of the Vienna Insurance Group increased during the first six months of 2007 to nearly EUR 3.5 billion. In line with the watchword "Strong Together", all the companies of the Vienna Insurance Group contributed to the excellent results. The share of the CEE companies in the total premium volume of the Vienna Insurance Group has surpassed the 40 percent mark in all, and for the first time in a half-year period is at over 50 percent in the property/casualty segment.

Günter Geyer, General Manager

Through Vienna Insurance Group's successful growth, we have been able to improve our market share in several countries and we are one of the top-players on the relevant markets. We are the number 1 in Austria as early as by the end of 2006; and we are the current leader in Bulgaria, Romania and Georgia, too. It is particularly gratifying for us to have taken leadership of the market in the motor insurance sector in Slovakia and in the whole property/casualty sector in the Czech Republic. Moreover, by the planned acquisition of Asirom, one of the largest insurance companies in Romania, we succeeded in further strengthening our top position on the strongly growing Romanian market.

Thanks to positive economic developments in our domestic markets, Vienna Insurance Group anticipates continuing strong demand in all areas for the coming year as well. Thus, for the future as well, the Vienna Insurance Group is offering its shareholders the perspective of an optimally positioned Central and Eastern European insurance group.

Our Group profit before taxes, which has increased by half, compared to the first half of 2006, makes it possible to already expect an increase of the dividend for our shareholders to more than one Euro per share.

Sincerely,

Günter Geyer

RISK REPORT

The Vienna Insurance Group's core competency is its professional management of risks. Positive developments in risk organization and risk profile continued in the 1st half of 2007. The central risk committee, which reports to the entire board of directors, provides intra-group methods and processes for risk control and monitoring. Vienna Insurance Group holds a leading position in Austria in its preparation for Solvency II. Supported by this commitment and its current capital strength, the Vienna Insurance Group is outstandingly well prepared for future solvency requirements.

Current Topics

As a result of increasing globalization, international capital markets are more and more interdependent. In particular the developments on the Chinese stock markets were responsible for increased stock volatility at the beginning of 2007.

Triggered by the very favorable interest rates on loans and increasing property prices during recent years, a market for lower-rated real estate loans has developed in the United States, referred to in the banking industry as "subprime." These mortgages were thereafter securitized and sold to funds and to institutional investors. Following a worldwide rise in interest rates and falling property prices at the same time the "Suprime Segment" ran into increased payment problems. Securitized mortgage loans and their derivatives wound up becoming illiquid and underwent a sharp decline in value, with possibly even more to lose. This led to highly negative investor sentiment and to increased risk premiums in the entire credit market, as well as to fears of a credit crunch. The Subprime Segment also has an impact on global financial markets, particularly the financial service sector, leading in July and August 2007 to corrections in equity prices and sharp increases in stock volatilities.

Thanks to the Vienna Insurance Group's very conservative risk policy and its avoidance of credit derivatives and complex credit structures, the exposure of the Vienna Insurance Group to the structured credit market is less than 0.5% of total assets. Possible risks arising from the problems in this area are negligible.

The Europe-wide results of the QIS 3 (quantitative impact study) field study will be published at the end of 2007 and will allow for an international comparison of the risk position of insurers and for the calibration of the model's parameters. By expanding into new growth markets, the Vienna Insurance Group risk methods and risk processes will also be extended to the new businesses. As in the last few years, the objective is continual improvement of the overall risk situation.

Turkey – Closing of Acquisition of Majority Interest in Ray Sigorta A.Ş.

With the closing, at the beginning of June 2007, of the acquisition of 58.2% in Ray Sigorta A.Ş. through TBIH Financial Services N.V. (TBIH), in which Vienna Insurance Group has a 60% interest, the Vienna Insurance Group's entry onto the Turkish insurance market was successfully accomplished.

The shares were acquired for about EUR 62 million from the former majority shareholder, the Turkish Doğan Şirketler Grubu Holding A.Ş. (Doğan), which will continue to hold close to 20% of Ray Sigorta A.Ş. Moreover, from August 6 through August 20, TBIH made a public takeover bid for the approximately 22% of the shares of Ray Sigorta A.Ş. held by the public and now holds about 75% of the shares.

Ray Sigorta A.Ş. is a publicly listed Turkish insurance company with its head office in Istanbul. The corporation, founded in 1958, does business in the Non-Life insurance area with a primary focus on motor policies, achieving a premium volume of about EUR 136 million for business year 2006.

With a market share of 2.7%, Vienna Insurance Group is in 12th place on the Turkish insurance market (as of: 1st half 2007).

Regardless of language and culture the children were also able to make friendships spanning the borders over the course of the numerous outings offered by the Vienna Insurance Group, an expanding family of success. Head office as "Tower of Life"

The Ringturm, the head office of the Vienna Insurance Group in the heart of Vienna, becomes a significant monument to a painter during the summer: After the Don Giovanni house designed by Christian Ludwig Attersee in 2006, this year, the Ringturm becomes the "Tower of Life" based on pictures from Austrian painter Robert Hammerstiel. Hammerstiel dealt with four subjects: Childhood, Youth, Family and Old Age. He thus symbolizes all the stages of life supported by the Vienna Insurance Group as an insurer.

CAPITAL MARKET

Capital market developments

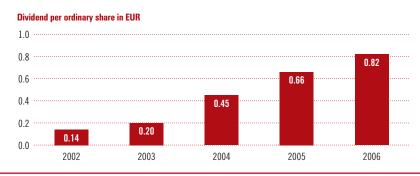

After a strong correction resulting from the overheating of the Chinese stock market at the end of February 2007, international stock markets recovered surprisingly quick during the 2nd quarter 2007. This positive development is the result of basically

REPORT OF THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS

The 16th ordinary annual general meeting of the shareholders of WIENER STÄDTISCHE Versicherung AG VIENNA INSURANCE GROUP was held on May 25, 2007, in the Austria Center in Vienna. As in the preceding year, the address given by the Chairman of the Board Dr. Günter Geyer was carried live on the Internet. The recording of the live broadcast can be viewed on the Vienna Insurance Group's website, under <code>www.wienerstaedtische.com/ir > Annual General Meeting 2007</code>. The website also allows for an inspection the agenda, motions and results of voting.

Dividend Increase to 82 Cent per Share

At the general meeting of shareholders, a resolution was passed to increase the dividend per share to EUR 0.82 for fiscal year 2006. Thus, the dividend per share is EUR 0.16 more, or nearly 25%, than the dividend distributed the previous year. The payment date for the dividend was June 4, 2007.

WIENER STÄDTISCHE Versicherung AG VIENNA INSURANCE GROUP dividends have increased almost six fold over four years.

three factors: the excellent economic trend worldwide, steadily positive company results and numerous additional mergers and acquisitions. May showed significant price increases on stock markets, and many stock exchange indices, also including the ATX, reached all-time or multi-year historic highs. Index levels at the end of the semi-annual period were just below these highs for the year values, and have been sharply in retreat over the past few weeks (as of the finalizing of this report). In particular, the crisis on the U.S. real estate market appears to be the underlying cause responsible for the general uncertainty on international markets during the last few weeks.

During the 1st half of 2007, the trend on European stock exchanges was stronger than on exchanges in the U.S. or in Japan. Things have taken a different turn since June 30, 2007, however. As of this writing (August 21, 2007), the European stock index, EuroStoxx 50 had posted a performance of +1.3% over its 2006 year-end value, thus below the U.S. Dow Jones Industrial Average's gain of +3.0%, and above the Japanese stock exchange index the Nikkei 225 (-5.8%). On the other hand, the German DAX Index, for example, tacked on more than 21% during the first half of the year and at the time of this writing was up +12.6%. Likewise, after a markedly positive trend through mid-July (up as much as +17%), the Central and Eastern-European stock index CECE (in EUR) was drawn into a strong move in sympathy with the turbulence on capital markets, showing a performance of +0.6% in 2007.

Developments in Interest Rates

The European Central Bank (ECB) raised its prime rate again for the 8th consecutive time, to 4.00%. With regard to the present events on capital markets, forecasts on the development of interest rates are hard to make. Poland and the Czech Republic increased their prime rate during the 2nd quarter 2007 in two steps, by 25 basis points each; on the other hand, the prime rate in Slovakia was lowered from 4.50% to 4.25%. The U.S. prime rate has remained unchanged, at 5.25%, from the last rise in interest rate of about a year ago.

Vienna Stock Exchange

The Vienna Stock Exchange index ATX managed to slightly exceed the performance of the EuroStoxx 50 during the first six months in 2007, with a 9.1% increase. This is all the more significant as the ATX had already reached an all-time high of 4,463.47 points by the end of 2006. Due to the outstanding fundamental data coming from companies, the ATX index reached a new all-time high of 4,967.61 by mid-June. By the end of the first half-year period, the ATX eased off slightly due to profit-taking. During the 1st half of July, the ATX already went above the 5000 points mark on an intraday basis. Nonetheless, the Vienna stock market could not escape the U.S. real estate crisis and, since its all-time high, has sharply drawn back, by more than 12%. By August 21, 2007, the finalization date of the interim report, the value of the ATX index had fallen to 4,323.71 points, thus, posting a loss of just under 3% for 2007.

INVESTOR RELATIONS

In connection with the Frankfurt and London roadshows during the first half of 2007, management met with interested investors and answered questions regarding the Vienna Insurance Group's strategy and growth. These topics were also at the forefront of the one-to-one meetings at the roadshow in Budapest in May, organized by the Vienna Stock Exchange together with Capital Bank. In June, at the banking conferences of Goldman Sachs in Lisbon and of UBS in Zurich, management presented highlights and background information on the Vienna Insurance Group and answered questions by the investors in numerous one-to-one meetings.

At the end of May and the beginning of August, two investment banks increased their price targets for Wiener Städtische stock, to EUR 71.00 and EUR 70.00, hence, the range of price expectations in analyses published this year of the Vienna Insurance Group currently extends from EUR 57.00 to EUR 71.00.

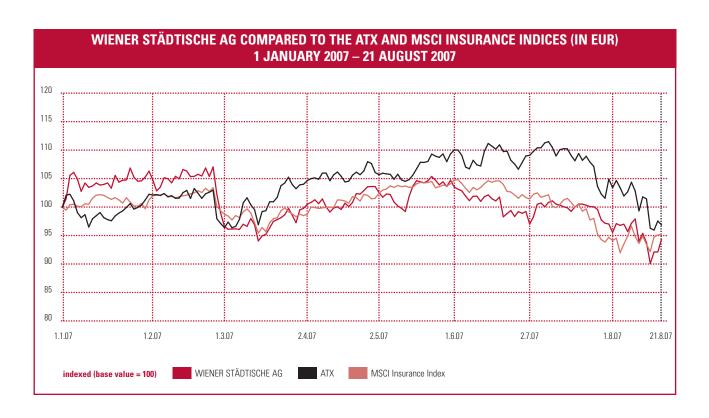

Particularly gratifying was the recent inclusion of Wiener Städtische stock in the FTSE4Good Index, which, on an international basis, includes all businesses meeting selected criteria with respect to the areas of the environment, human rights and society. In addition, the Vienna Insurance Group is represented in the Austrian VÖNIX index and is thus included in two sustainability indices, documenting the Vienna Insurance Group's commitment in matters of Corporate Social Responsibility.

In order to inform its shareholders and all interested parties on a more timely basis, on August 21, 2007, the Vienna Insurance Group broadcasted the presentation by General Manager Günter Geyer in connection with the press conference regarding the 2007 six-month results, in German and English.

Performance of Wiener Städtische shares

Consequent upon the turbulence on international capital markets, shares of Wiener Städtische also underwent a drop in prices over the first quarter. Driven by the publication of its full year results, the first quarter results and the European Embedded Value for 2006, as well as by the raising of profit targets for the years following, on May 23, 2007, Wiener Städtische shares were almost back to their all-time high, reaching EUR 56.10. Subsequently, the stock could not escape the heightened market volatility, and like all others had to survive a bitter setback and as of the date this report was finalized, was trading at EUR 50.20, 5.6% below year-end 2006.

This will render it possible to raise the dividend for the year 2007 by at least 25% to more than one euro per share — subject to the consent of the relevant corporate bodies.

EXPLANATIONS OF THE CONSOLIDATED INTERIM STATEMENT ENDED JUNE 30, 2007

Accounting Principles

This consolidated interim financial report was prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), and complies with IAS 34 "Interim Financial Reporting."

There have been no material changes made to accounting and valuation methods since the last financial statement for the period ending December 31, 2006.

Information on seasonal and economic factors

Seasonal fluctuations within the Vienna Insurance Group appeared mainly in the areas of premiums, losses and financial results.

Based on the high number of inception dates in January, the first quarter has traditionally been the strongest in premiums over the course of the year. In the loss area as well, the first quarter (or first six months, as the case may be) is usually characterized by higher expenses — in particular, due to adverse weather conditions (snow, melting snow, storms and floods). In the context of financial results, a major portion of dividend payments comes during the second quarter, while distributions by investment funds pick up strongly during the 2nd half of the year.

The persistent rise in interest rates during the first two quarters led to a price decline in the Vienna Insurance Group's fixed income securities area.

Estimates

Preparation of a consolidated interim statement under IFRS requires discretionary judgments to be made and forecasts established regarding those future developments that can have a material influence on estimates and values of assets and liabilities, as well as on income and expenses, over the course of the fiscal year. The estimates relate in particular to underwriting provisions. In the current reporting period, no substantial changes have been made in the system for determining these estimates.

Business events with closely-related persons and companies:

This primarily relates refers to intracompany reinsurance relationships of a subordinate volume as well as to financing on market terms, particularly in the area of real property and billing for services. Even so, these have no material effects on business results. The members of the managing board and of the supervisory board were not granted any loans or liabilities during the reporting period.

Information regarding Changes to the Scope of Consolidation:

Already since the first quarter, UNION Versicherungs-AG, Vienna, has been fully consolidated (previously proportionally consolidated). In addition, during the second quarter, AIS-Servis s.r.o., Brno, was included for the first time at equity in the consolidated financial statements of the Vienna Insurance Group, while all interests in COUNTRY INN VIC Hotelerrichtungs- und Betriebsgesellschaft m.b.H., Vienna, were sold and the company was de-consolidated.

Type and Extent of Business Transactions unusual with regard to type, amount or frequency:

- Acceptance of the takeover bid by voestalpine for acquisition of Böhler-Uddeholm AG at EUR 73.00 per share.
 Additional stock transactions and property sales led to realized profits of ca. EUR 264 million in the first half of the year.
- Storm damages caused by Hurricane "Kyril" during the first quarter 2007 (gross claims approximately EUR 60 million – net loss approximately EUR 10 million)

Changes in contingent liabilities and receivables

Compared to 2006 financial statements, the following change took place during the reporting period just ended:

Through the sale of COUNTRY INN VIC Hotelerrichtungs- und Betriebsgesellschaft m.b.H., Vienna, the joint liability on loans amounting to 10,580 TEUR was discharged.
